

D&G
Enviro-Group

Experts-conseils en environnement
Environmental Consultants

A dynamic and progressive firm

Since its founding in 1989, D&G Enviro-Group has specialized in environmental audits, impact studies, characterization studies and remediation of contaminated sites.

The company's experience in environmental engineering has served the interests of the business community in projects involving financial institutions, insurance companies, the Ministry of the Environment and other administrative agencies requiring comprehensive environmental site evaluations.

The flexible corporate structure at D&G Enviro-Group ensures that each client receives highly personalized service and cost-effective solutions to the challenges within a project. The ultimate objective of our team is to provide environmental services that are suited to the specific needs of each client.

D&G Enviro-Group is known for providing professional insight in tune with financial considerations and demanding schedules.

All members of D&G Enviro-Group's team were selected for the quality of their training, their field experience, analytical abilities, writing skills and project management capabilities.

Our company consists of specialists in the fields of engineering, biology, chemistry, hydrology and geology..

Our Project Managers coordinate all aspects of the projects they supervise. They have the authority and experience to take decisive action in meetings with the client and on the job site. Our clients can rely on direct access at all times with the person in charge of their project. Our reports are comprehensive and the recommendations are always practical.

D&G Enviro-Group relies on the synergy of teamwork to provide quality service to its customers. During the course of regularly scheduled meetings, each project is assessed, resources allocated and project methodology discussed. To ensure the high quality of our work, final reports are edited, proofread and countersigned by another team member.

Member of the Canadian Environmental Auditing Association

A wide range of professional services

Highly versatile, D&G Enviro-Group's team offers a full range of environmental engineering services:

- ◆ Environmental studies
 - Phase I: Evaluation of potential environmental liability
 - Phase II: Determination of the degree of contamination
 - Phase III: Determination of the extent of contamination
 - Phase IV: Site Remediation
- ◆ Environmental risk analysis for pollution insurance purposes
- ◆ Characterization studies (soil, water, air, building materials, waste)
- ◆ Permit and Certificate applications to the Ministry of the Environment
- ◆ Environmental impact studies
- ◆ Remediation of contaminated sites
- ◆ Management of environmental projects
- ◆ Environmental assessment for golf courses and other recreational developments
- ◆ Hazardous waste management and minimization strategies
- ◆ Hydrogeological investigations
- ◆ Geotechnical studies
- ◆ Assessment of technological and toxicological risks
- ◆ Conformity inspections
- ◆ Underground storage tank removal

We bring peace of mind to all our customers

D&G Enviro-Group serves the needs of a diversified clientele:

- ◆ Financial institutions ◆ Insurance companies ◆ Light and heavy manufacturing companies ◆ Transportation companies
- ◆ Real-estate investors ◆ Construction contractors ◆ Recreational developers (e.g. golf courses, ski hills, etc.)
- ◆ Government agencies ◆ Waste management companies

All projects are managed in a way that protects our clients' investment while providing user-friendly, professional supervision. We are proud that our experience has satisfied our clients' requirements and we have built our reputation on the quality of our work.

To find out more about the environmental services that can actively contribute to your business success, do not hesitate to contact us.

D&G Enviro-Group Inc.

Telephone:
Fax:
Web site:
E-mail:

(514) or (888) 932-1688
(514) 932-1911
<http://www.dgenviro.com>
info@dgenviro.com